Audubon Series Begin Oct. 16 With Film on Australia Wildlife

"Kangaroo Continent," the first in a series of five National Audubon Society screen tours, will come to Eastern October 16.

Wildlife of the continent "down under" will be explained by Dr. Alfred M. Bailey, director of the Colorado Museum of Natural History in Denver.

In Australia, where the seasons are turned around, there are two of the world's strangest mammals — the duck-billed platypus and the spiny echidna. Also the koalas, the famous Australian "teddy bear" and the bounding red kangaroo.

In the spring of 1954, Bailey, accompanied by his daughter, made an extensive expedition to the South Pacific. There they made still and motion pictures on Oahu where they concentrated on the birds of that part of the world. From there they went to Australia. Here they saw and recorded on film the animal and plant life of this country. Both the North and South Islands of New Zealand were visited for the purpose of filming the birds, mammals and plants of these unusual lands.

This is the fourth time this series of lectures sponsored by the National Audubon society has made its appearance on the Eastern campus. No tickets are needed to attend.

Cars Must be Registered With Dean of Students

All students and faculty members driving to school must have their cars registered with the Dean of Students office in order to park on school property.

Only those people who do not park on school property more than one day a month are exempt from this rule, according to Mr. C. F. Monier, school traffic officer.

Senate Discusses Plans For Operating Lounge

The Student Association Senate met Tuesday night in Old Main. Association president Robert Marshall presided over the meeting in place of vice-president Paco Rojas who is in the hospital.

Plans for the operation of the student lounge were discussed with the Senate deciding that, due to financial difficulties, the association could not support the lounge. Formerly it had been supported by student help. Marshall said the lounge would continue operation as long as the present lounge fund held out. He estimated this time as approximately 20 weeks.

The Senate set up a committee to study policies which should apply to the granting of scholarships to foreign students. The Student Association presently has a foreign scholarship fund to be

Plans Made for HC Assembly

Homecoming assembly, Thursday, October 18 at 10 a.m. in Lantz gym will kick off a three day Homecoming weekend. Mike Muchmore, who will act as master of ceremonies, and Dr. Curtis Garner are in charge of the program.

Eastern's band and the newly elected cheerleaders will set an appropriate mood for this annual event.

The program will be highlighted by an appearance of a well-known musical group. Also on the agenda is a cut from the Homecoming production, "The Tender Trap." The queen and her court will be introduced as will members of the football team.

Dr. Quincy Doudna, president of the college, and Mervin Baker, president of the Alumni association, will address the student body and the assembly will close with a summary of the events to be held during the weekend.

Eastern Artist Wins First Place

Eastern art students brought home a first, second, and honorable mention from the third annual Paris Art exhibit held in Paris last week. Gene Roberds, a senior art major from Lawrenceville, copped a first with his abstract "Flourescent Growth" while Dr. Carl Shull won a second with his still life, "The Butcher."

Hannah Eads, an Eastern graduate now teaching, won honorable mention for her "Figure."

Also represented in the show were Lenny Boudreaux, with "Carnival;" Chris Scott, with "Marseilles Apartment;" and Shirley Tremble, with a still life.

Paintings were entered from within a 50 mile radius of Paris, and judged by William F. Kreser of Indianapolis and Elmer E. Taflinger.

1131 Students Turn Out at Polls; Elkins Head Football Greeter

Peggy Frew, junior elementary major from Oak Lawn and the Delta Zeta sorority candidate, has been chosen by Eastern students to reign as Homecoming queen during the 42nd annual celebration, October 19-21.

In an all-school election, Miss Frew garnered 466 votes to win by 61 votes over Miss Leonora Seaman, the Sigma Sigma Sigma candidate from Mattoon, the nearest competitor. Miss Doris Johns, the Sigma Kappa candidate from Arcola, collected 260 votes.

The 1131 ballots cast in the queen election represents one of the largest voter turn outs in recent years. Well over 50 per cent of the total student body voted.

Miss Frew will assume royal duties on Friday, October 19, and will be officially crowned on Saturday night, October 20. Mrs. Jack Kenny, the former Joan Young and last year's Homecoming queen, will place the crown on Miss Frew.

The queen's court will be composed of Miss Seaman, Miss Johns, Mrs. Kenny, Miss Ilene Dohme, the freshman attendant, and the queen.

Miss Dohme, speech correction major from Broadland, was elected by her classmates as freshman attendant to the queen. Miss Dohme received 155 votes to win.

Miss Connie Elkins, sophomore business major from Olney, was elected Head Greeter in Thursday's election. Miss Elkins will greet the Evansville football team prior to the Homecoming game. Miss Billie Knowles, junior physical education major from Mt. Carmel, and Miss Rita Montgomery, junior elementary major from Flat Rock, will assist Miss Elkins. The newly elected queen will have royal company during the celebration as all Eastern Homecoming queens from 1941 have been invited back to campus by the Student Association. The former queens will be introduced at half-time of the football game on Saturday.

Gordon to Shoot For World's Record Listening Title Sat.

Larry Gordon, News columnist, will attempt to set what he claims will be a world's record for listening to one record, non-stop, Saturday at 4 p.m.

Gordon, who's "Sounding board" appears weekly in the News, says the present world's record for listening to one disk is six hours and that he will attempt to sit through 28 hours of "I Walk the Line." Gordon, if successful in his feat, will finish his listening session at 8 p.m. Sunday evening.

Gordon, who is presently enrolled in a college music appreciation course, will probably be stationed at 865 Seventh street for his crack at the world's title.

If successful, Larry will be the only world record holder at Eastern, according to his calculations.

Successful Campaign

Connie Elkins, Sigma Sigma Sigma candidate for football greeter, leads a parade of sorority sisters in the campaign last week. Connie was elected head greeter.

Warbler Receives Second-Class Honor

Eastern's yearbook, Warbler, has been awarded a second-class rating from the Associated College Press rating service. The association's guidebook was received last week.

Eastern's book was ranked with other college and university yearbooks in the 1001-2000 enrolment range.

Co-editors of last year's Warbler were Lynda Sinclair Murphy and Carol Lee Wagner. Dr. Francis Palmer was the adviser.

Junior Pictures Must Be Taken by Saturday

All juniors should have their pictures taken for the Warbler, student yearbook, before Saturday, according to yearbook editor, Jim Garner.

Seniors are scheduled to have pictures taken from next Monday through Saturday, October 20. Myers, Ryan Studio, and Shirley Tremble Studio have been designated as authorized Warbler photographers.

Students not having pictures taken by the dates specified risk not having their pictures in the Warbler.

First Artist Series Concert October 21

Concert by duo-pianists Melvin Shechter and Norman Horowitz will open the Eastern Illinois State College 1956-57 Artists Series October 21 on the stage of Lantz gym. The concert will close Eastern's 42nd Homecoming celebration.

The second of the programs will be a concert by the Chamber Music Ensemble of Yugoslavia, from Zagreb, November 7. Other entertainment in the series includes: Fiesta Mexicana, Miguel De Tejada, November 20; Paris Ballet, including Lyda Darsoval, Mallerina, December 4; the Original Don Cossack Dancers, Serge Jaroff, conductor, January 21; and the Dublin Dancers on April 3.

Season tickets go on sale Thursday, October 4. Persons interested in tickets should write: Dr. Ewell Monier, Artists Series Board, Eastern Illinois State college.

Seniors Must Check Credits for Graduation

Seniors who expect to graduate this year or next summer must make an appointment with the registrar immediately. This is to check requirements so that at the time of graduation the student will have the right number of courses and credits.

From The Desk . . .

Vague Rules . . .

Give Committee Absolute Power

The selection by the Homecoming committee to abolish tradition in the crowning of Eastern's Homecoming queen brings to light the need for a more concrete set of rules governing that committee.

Since the inauguration of Homecoming queen by the News in 1930, the News editor has crowned the queen. Not only did the college paper originate the entire idea way back in 1930 but they carried on the election until 1952 when it was turned over to the Student Association. During special events, such as the 1953 celebration in honor of President Robert G. Buzzard, the paper granted the honor of the crowning to the president of the college.

1956 is such a year. President Quincy Doudna takes over the reins of the college for his first year and this year's Homecoming theme is built around "Welcome Mr. President." If the crowning tradition is to be broken, it should be broken in favor of Dr. Doudna.

However, a trivial matter has entered into the situation. With one of the smallest queen's courts in many years, the Homecoming committee was concerned over the balancing of the court. Mrs. Joan Kenny, last year's queen, was asked to do the crowning honors in order to help balance out the court.

To throw tradition to the wind for such a minor reason when traditions are so scarce on Eastern's campus seems like a wasted and poor move on the part of the Homecoming committee. The hollow honor they granted to last year's queen was for insignificant reasons to say the least.

Where can such action be censored is the real problem, however. Apparently the Homecoming committee's power is absolute. They are not required, or at least they haven't in the past, gone through the regular channels of action in proposing their changes as do other Student Association committees. Yet they attend Senate meetings. Their word or actions are final and cannot be appealed.

Such an arrangement should not exist. The sooner the relationship between the Homecoming committee and the Student Association is made clear to Eastern's students, the sooner mistakes such as the one made concerning the crowning of the queen can be cleared up.

Student Association . . .

Improves Election Procedures

The smooth, efficient way in which the Student Association's elections committee ran last week's Homecoming election deserves some thanks from the student body.

In past years, elections have run on a haphazard basis with voters marking ballots in the best place they could find, with no privacy whatsoever. No proof of identification was called for and, by giving various names, a student could vote several times.

When elected Student Association president last year, Bob Marshall promised the student body that the election procedure would be improved. Together with election's chairman Jerry Newman, Marshall has made the elections here something for the school to be proud of.

The installation of ten semi-private booths and the checking of activities books has given the elections a meaning. Further improvements are hoped for in future elections, according to Marshall.

This establishing of correct voting operations at Eastern should set a precedent for future Association members to follow.

Containers . . .

Needed at Campus Buildings

Cigaret butts which litter the ground in front of some of the buildings on campus give a bad impression to the visitors which come to our campus. Only a few of the buildings on campus are equipped with containers to hold this refuse. If containers were provided for all entrances to campus buildings, the campus would have a neater appearance.

THE SOUNDING BOARD

by Larry Gordon

Things have certainly been happening in this dirty, greasy old world. A student in Michigan wants to get married so that he may vote, certain people in Pemberton hall have been taken to gulping guppies, and I have a new friend with an unusual name.

A student editor from Michigan State university advertised for a wife last Thursday so he could legally register to vote in Michigan.

He has been refused the right to vote because he is a bachelor. Therefore, he wants to get married before the deadline for voting registration in Michigan. Confusing, isn't it? Seems that married students can and unmarried students can't up there in Michigan.

The divorce proceedings will commence one minute after he has registered. All he wants to do is get married, register, and get a divorce. This is about as easy as scratching the Congressional Record on the head of a pin.

Last Thursday evening occurred a revival of the goldfish swallowing days of the twenties. In the modern version it is gulping guppies. There were four guppies swallowed by four (count 'em) members of Pem's dietic department. This should be indicative of something.

Now I want to tell you about my new friend. This friend is an eight-weeks old boxer. The pup's name is Vodka. Vodka is a good little puppy. She has strong teeth. She already has three shoes (all left), two hats, and a corner of the sofa to her credit. What more could you ask of a pup?

I happened to light a cigaret a little while ago, and I want to say something about the matches they put out nowadays. They're getting downright sneaky when they put that little place where you light them on the wrong side. A man could scratch for nine days and never get anyplace. That's all.

Sometime ago I was informed that the world's record for listening to one song over and over again was 26 hours. Now, I've never held a world's record for anything, and this is my big chance. I'm going for that one.

This earthshaking event will occur next weekend. I shall begin at 4 p.m. on Saturday afternoon. The proceedings will take place at 865 Seventh street. I'll be there.

I hope to go for 28 hours and set a new world's record without any quibbling, unless my information on the existing record is incorrect.

I have selected a lovely song. This song was chosen in honor of Wayne Baker and Max Roberts. They became fond of this song when they held a Baker-Go-To-Army day early in September.

The selection is a recording by Johnny Cash. The name of this jewel is "I'll Walk the Line". I had thought of Elvis Presley, but this seemed impractical inasmuch as his records are so difficult to find.

In order that people won't consider me totally insane, I would like to set down a reason or two for doing this. The primary reason is that we need news. Another reason is that I believe that someone at Eastern should do something, even if it's wrong. This is. Still another reason is that this is a possible solution to the suitcasing problem. This is one thing that students could do on weekends.

But the real reason is that Heron didn't think I'd go through with it. As George would say, "There you are."

Any of my friends or friends of anyone else are welcome to drop in during the night and watch me listen.

I am sure this will be approved by one person, and that is Johnny Cash. That's all.

Ike Calls Third Term Limitation Unwise; New Proposal on Su

by Frank Pialorsi

President Eisenhower told his news conference last Friday did not regard the last amendment to the Constitution, a third presidential term, as wholly wise.

Eisenhower related his remarks to his own situation applied to a second term President influencing the choice of successor. He pointed out that the amendment would not lessen such a President's power in this regard.

Letters to the Editor

A salute to the suitcase. I hope to become one very soon.

Where else can a person find something to do or something to eat on weekends but at home?

I was looking for something to do on Saturday, so I thought I would go to the lounge for a game of ping pong or watch TV. Much to my surprise it was closed. We just voted on a new $700,000 student union. I can't see paying that much money for a student center when the one we now have is not open on weekends. Oh yes, there is a theatre in town but I can't stand to see the same movie six times.

The food problem in this community is terrible. For a person without a car living in a private home, your Sunday noon meal consists of hamburgers, eggs, or delicious ham salad sandwiches, just to mention a few of the delicacies you have to choose from.

A dermatologist would make a tremendous living in this town.

I know there are few students who stay on weekends, but how about making things more pleasant for those who do stay? You may even see a marked decrease in suitcasing.

To the Editor:

Apparently the person or persons who wrote the editorial, "Domination by Greeks is Fault of Independents," did not know all of the facts and therefore unknowingly maligned the independent students.

The reason the Independents did not nominate a candidate for Homecoming queen was not because of lack of leadership or organization, but because of lack of funds. We felt that it would be better not to nominate a candidate than to nominate one whom we could not support according to the standards of the Greek organizations.

Because the student body did not support the all-campus activities, such as the Blue Silhouette, which the Independent Student association sponsored, the Independents went into debt last year. This situation was due more to the apathy on the part of the student

Vice President Richard Nixon swung hard again last Friday at Adlai Stevenson's election. He hoped that conditions would end the draft in the "able future." He declared publicans would not "hold false hopes" of such action. Nixon said he thought son was "a well intentioned but contended the Democratic candidate lacked the background judgment of President Eisenhower in matters involving the peace and freedom.

Stevenson has said the should be ended "at the possible moment consistent with the national safety."

Britain and France last called on the U.N. Security Council last Friday to endorse a new London agreement internationalizing Suez canal operations. That would mean "users," not Egypt alone, manage the vital waterway. The Suez problem dissenter were Russia, Ceylon, and Indonesia.

Giffin Finds Films Help in Classroom Procedure

by Staff Member

Editor's Note

(This is the first in a series of articles on the use of audio-visual in the classrooms on Eastern's campus.)

is that get behind the scenes in big factories and other business institutions, where the average student has probably never the chance to go, are important teaching aids for Dr. James F. Giffin in his business education classes.

These films give the class a "common range of experience" so when discussions are held in class, the students are all thinking the same thing. They also show parts of the factory that the students would never get to see otherwise, such as the drafting rooms, where all new models must be kept secret.

Films also summarize units of study and make vivid what the students have learned in class. Students can remember what they see for themselves better than that which they simply read in the textbook.

Dr. Giffin uses mostly commercial films put out by companies to advertise their products. In selecting films, he first goes over audio-visual listings for those which he thinks will contribute something to class study. If he finds something which he thinks can use, he orders it, previews it and if it is good, he schedules it for class showing.

In previewing a film, Dr. Giffin watches to see how long it will run and whether it will contribute some unit of study and whether it is a learning experience either in connection with or in addition to the unit of study.

In planning class work as much as two quarters ahead of time, Dr. Giffin is able to schedule films to coincide closely with the unit of study each film deals with. However, if a film arrives a few days early, it can be used as a review of the unit, and if it arrives late, it can be used as a review.

Most of Dr. Giffin's classes deal with understanding how business works rather than the skills used in business. Although films can be used to teach skills, they can only illustrate how something is to be done.

Before showing a film, Dr. Giffin tells the class what parts of the film are the most important and just what to look for in it. Then the class discusses the film after it has been shown.

Dr. Giffin does not run the projector himself, because he feels that the time spent in getting the film ready to show is needed to point out the outstanding features of the film to the class. Dr. Giffin also watches the film each time through to further help the students to see the most important points.

Dr. Giffin is only one of many teachers at Eastern who use audio-visual films and other materials as a major part of classroom study.

Business Faculty Attend Meeting in Mattoon Fri.

Members of the business education faculty attended the Mattoon Business and Industry show held at the Mattoon armory last Friday evening.

Attending the meeting from Eastern were Dr. James M. Thompson, head of the business education department; Dr. James Giffin; Mr. William Barrett, and Mr. Author Hughes.

Five Eastern Faculty Members Serve on Clark Workshop

Five faculty members served as consultants at the Clark County Institute and Workshop held at the Marshall high school last Thursday, October 4.

Attending were Dr. Arthur U. Edwards, professor in education, grades 4-6; Dr. Walter Scruggs, head of the zoology department, mathematics and science; Dr. Leo Dvorak, head of the music department, fine arts; Dr. Charles P. Lantz, Emeritus Head of the physical education department, physical education and health; and Dr. Earl S. Dickerson, professor in business education, vocational education.

The institute and workshop is a regular one-day meeting held for the teachers of the county each year on Thursday preceding the Eastern Division meeting of the Illinois Education association at the college on Friday.

Marked Increase in Room Shortage

With increased enrolments at Eastern and other colleges in Illinois, the classroom problem is becoming more and more acute.

According to a report from the United States Office of Education last week, public schools around the nation opened their doors this fall with a shortage of 247,000 classrooms.

According to the education office, this many rooms were needed to handle increased enrolments alone, making no allowance for rooms lost by fire, storm, or obsolescence.

An estimated 32,700,000 pupils enrolled in public schools this fall, an increase of five million over the 1952 enrolment figures. At 30 pupils a room, this would call for 167,000 new classrooms since 1952-53.

If people would consider their choice of office-seekers as carefully as they do new automobiles, Pogo would win.

Klehm to Serve on New State Industrial Arts Committee

by D. W. Lindenmyer

Dr. Walter A. Klehm, head of Eastern's industrial arts department, has received an appointment to a committee of three to advise the State Industrial Education clubs in the problems regarding the Student Project Fair, a new program they have set up. The appointment was made by Harry A. Meinert, State adviser of the Illinois State Industrial Education clubs.

The two other members appointed to the committee along with Dr. Klehm are Dr. Beryl Cunningham of Bradley university and Dr. Rupert Evans of the University of Illinois.

The Illinois Industrial Education club's Student Project Fair is a new program. High school students from all over the state, with the exception of Cook county, will bring the projects which they have made during the past year to the Fair. The projects will be classified into eight divisions; woodwork, metalwork, drawing, graphic arts, electricity, machine shop, welding, and an "open" field for competition.

The winners of each division will be rewarded with scholarships. The second, third, and fourth places will receive cash awards.

Dr. Klehm expresses hope that in the near future this program will develop into a program parallel to that already established by the FFA and FHA of Illinois.

The problems confronting Dr. Klehm and his two fellow-committeemen are numerous; but, probably the biggest problem they have to solve is establishing the policies, procedures, and rules governing the distribution of the scholarships. It is obvious that here, as in any contest, the rules will have to be concise and definite.

In addition to serving on the committee, Dr. Klehm plans to do some of the judging in the contest.

The Fair is to be held in the Illinois State Armory, April 12-13, 1957.

IA Club Begins Construction on Queen's Float

Construction on the Queen's float for Homecoming has begun. Final designs and preparations for construction of the float were presented at the Industrial Arts club meeting last week.

The designing committee of the club explained the plans they presented and the club, after some discussion, concluded on the plans for the float that will eventually carry the Homecoming queen throughout the parade.

At the same meeting, three members of the club, Roger Larson, Bill Heath, and Bob Trueblood, told of their summer experiences in work in industry. They compared their work to the technical training they are receiving in their industrial arts courses at Eastern.

At the present time, the industrial arts classes are concentrating their efforts on the basic and standard projects, which teach tool techniques on such machines as the surface grinder, the lathe, and the milling machines and shaver.

There are some projects that involve the use of nearly every basic machine in the shop, and thus the students get quite a varied acquaintance with different machines in one project. These basic projects are the ones being produced in the industrial arts department at the present time.

Last year there were eight students enrolled at Eastern whose names began with the letter Z.

Southern Saluki Invade Lincoln Field Saturday for IIAC Encounter

Eastern Wins 1st Conference Tilt

by George Webb

Southern Illinois will be the second Conference foe for the Panthers this coming Saturday. The Salukis of Southern have played three games this season and have a record of one win and two defeats.

Their only win was over Illinois Wesleyan, 40-0, and losses were to Central Michigan, 32-13, and Bradley university, 26-20.

Last spring several of Southern's backfield men were lost due to graduation. Coach Al Kawal will have to do without the services of one quarterback, three fullbacks, and one end, although the rest of the Saluki line are experienced lettermen.

The biggest scorer for Southern this season has been their new fullback, Dick White, who tallied twice against Bradley.

Last Saturday Eastern opened Interstate Conference play with a 14-6 victory over the Illinois State Normal Redbirds.

The first score of the game was made by the Panthers in the second period. Don Arnold intercepted a Redbird pass on Normal's 25 and lateralled to Darrell Brown who ran it back to the 16. Within five plays freshman quarterback Verlon Myers had the ball over the goal line on a six inch plunge. Roger West kicked his first PAT.

Ten seconds before the half ended West tried to kick a field goal, but the ball went wide of the uprights.

The Panthers scored for the last time in the third quarter when Myers recovered a Redbird fumble. On a 43 yard drive to the goal line, the big play was a 16 yard pass from Myers to Ken Christiansen. The TD was scored on a four yard plunge through the line by D. Brown. West's PAT kick was good for a second time.

During the entire game, Normal got past Eastern's 45 only once and that was the only time they scored. In the second period the Redbirds started a 71 yard drive which was climaxed by a three yard end run and a touchdown by Darrell Spang. Spang also tried a PAT kick, but the ball went wide of the goal posts.

Intramural Soccer

Neil Admire (left) and Lloyd Ludwig (back to camera) of the Phi Sigs, gain control of the ball in IM soccer play. Jim Hlafka, also of the Phi Sigs, is ready to move in during their game against Sigma Pi. Soccer, touch football, tennis doubles and wrestling are the four sports on the fall intramural calendar. Wrestling is the only sport in which interested persons can still register. The closing date for entries in wrestling is October 29 with competition beginning October 30.

In the rushing department, Normal outdid Eastern, 160-117, but in passing it was a different story. In eight attempts Normal failed to connect with anyone. The Panthers completed six of 14 attempts.

Phi Sigs Win First IM Soccer Battle

Only three games were played last week in the intramural touch football league. Soccer took up two days of play, while football only took one.

The Campus Cappers scored their third straight victory against no defeats when they downed the second place Douglas Hall Demons, 28-14. The victory over the Demons put the Cappers in an undisputed first place.

In the key game in the fraternity league the Sig Taus will tangle with the Tekes.

Soccer got underway last week with last year's champs winning their first game. They beat the Sig Pi's 3-6. Johnson, Wolf, and Monge tallied the goals for the Phi Sigs.

With less than two minutes to play, Krueger kicked the only score of the game to lead the Sig Taus to a 1-0 victory over the Tekes.

In other soccer games the Tekes won on a forfeit from the Kappa Sigs as did the Sig Pi's. These two forfeits eliminate the Kappa Sigs from the Soccer league.

Ko-op beat the El-Mar House 3-2, while the Campus Cappers and Douglas Hall played to a 1-1 tie. Douglas Hall then won on a forfeit from Hernandos.

Northern D Eastern Har

A well-balanced team from Northern Illinois defeated the young, inexperienced Eastern here last Saturday. The runners started slow but lead at the mile mark and in front for the rest of the race.

The defeat broke Eastern's record of 15 consecutive meet wins.

This Saturday, Eastern's journey to Northern Illinois they will face Northern Illinois.

J-V's Lose to S Face Illinois N

Eastern's Junior Varsity squad suffered its first Thursday with a 1-0 loss to Southern. The J-V's record of no wins, one tie.

The Junior Panthers lost less than a minute of ball game but didn't score any more points in the first quarter or any other.

Southern took over in the second period and scored down and an extra point for a second score came in the second quarter.

Ken Christianson Takes Over At End, Replaces Jim Griffith

by James Ozier

Eastern dropped its second straight game last Saturday as they were beaten by a strong Southeast Missouri football team. Seeing action for the first time was freshman Verlon Meyers, who replaced injured Gary Anderson at the quarterback position. The final score of the game was S. E. Missouri 43, Eastern 13.

Meyers, who received honorable mention for the Little All-American high school football team last year, quarterbacked Charleston high school to an undefeated season in 1955.

The only other change in the Panther lineup planned by Coach Keith Smith is at right end where Ken Christianson, sophomore from Rossville, will replace Jim Griffith.

Eastern Michigan, IAC co-champion last year, bounced back from defeat in their opening game to a 26 to 0 win over Baldwin Wallace college.

Western, after winning their opening contest from Lewis college, dropped a 26-7 decision to Bradley last week. Bradley has played three IAC teams, winning over Western, tying Illinois Normal, and losing to Central Michigan.

Central Michigan avenged its only loss of the 1955 season last week as they rolled up 376 yards by rushing to defeat Southern 32 to 13 and set a new IAC single game rushing record. The old mark was 371 yards set by Central Michigan against Illinois Normal in 1952.

In the Central Michigan game last Saturday quarterback Jim Poodley sparked the Chippewas ground gaining attack by rushing for 133 yards in six carries, including touchdown runs of 91 and 35 yards.

Illinois Normal edged Northern last week on tackle Jim Barnes' field goal. The Redbirds from Normal rushed for 245 yards against Northern but were unable to score a touchdown. Northern, who downed Wheaton 7 to 6 in its only other game, was winless in 1955.

The Eastern Panthers will entertain the Southern Illinois foot-

Expensive Tastes Shown By Alabama Thieves

(ACP)—The Crimson-White reports that authorities at the University of Alabama are still investigating a wave of thefts which were reported at sorority houses and religious centers in the late summer.

The thieves struck at several spots within the space of a few days and seemed to be interested in only the most expensive loot. They took a $400 air conditioner from the Alpha Delta Pi house, a silver and tea set valued at $1,100 from the Phi Mu house, a high-fidelity set from the Baptist Student center, and a television set from the Westminister house.

University police also reported that more than a dozen fraternity and sorority houses were broken into during the period between the summer and fall terms by thieves who were apparently looking only for money.

Rebellion of The Masses

(ACP)—Students at the University of Mexico took things into their own hands after one of their number suffered a broken leg when he was struck by a bus. They seized several buses and refused to return them until the bus company had paid damages to the unlucky student.

Who's Who Election October 18

The Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities election will be held on October 18 this year according to Jerry Newman, Student Association elections chairman. Petitions for the election, which is sponsored by the Student Association, are due tomorrow in the student activities office.

Each major campus organization can nominate six candidates for the Who's Who ballot with only three candidates from their own group, according to Newman.

Candidates must be active in two faculty sponsored organizations and must have a 2.6 accumulative grade average.

A total of 28 Eastern students will be selected on this year's Who's Who slate. The total number of students allowed from each school is based on the total enrollment in that school. The election is based on popular student vote.

(ACP)—The male students at Berkeley, California, will probably think twice before staging any more panty raids. There was a really big raid last spring and it wound up costing students $5,100. That's the sum paid to girls who filed loss claims with the dean of students office.

Durham Heads Investigational Unit to Solve Fishery Problems

by Nancy Peterka

Science moves on as Dr. Leonard Durham promotes a co-op program between Eastern's zoology department, the Department of Conservation Division of Fisheries, and the History Survey Aquatic Biology section.

Durham, one of the newer members of the zoology department, has a working agreement to set up an investigational Eastern to work on small fisheries' problems. Dr. Durham reports that although they will be operating on a limited scope, the knowledge they hope to uncover will contribute to fisheries' management.

Two half-time assistants, Carlos White and Steve Whitley, have been chosen to aid in the various projects. White, a junior zoology major, is a member of Zoology seminar. Whitley, also a zoology major, is a member of Zoology seminar and Phi Sigma Epsilon social fraternity.

The assistants will have to get preliminary information about the ponds such as exact measurements, chemical composition, and a knowledge of the existing population of fish. Some of the equipment, such as a fish shocker, will be made by Whitley and White, but most of it will be furnished by the state.

Of the practical problems that will arise, the big one is how to control the fish population. In addition to undesirable there is often an over even of desirable fish.

Dr. Durham is no stranger to exterminating fish, having nine years experience in fish research at the Illinois Natural History Survey. This summer supervised the poisoning of a college lake. Over-crowding fish, both desirable and undesirable, was causing an unbalanced environment. The lake will be stocked with bass.

Whitley and White will work on "short time" projects that are handled in a small area. They will work on local ponds such as the newly formed Lincoln Log lake, the college lake, and several co-operating ponds in this area.

Their experiments will deal primarily with projects involving chemicals that will be used to eradicate undesirable fish and chemicals that will be used to rid ponds of noxious waste.

Sixth Grade Instructor Offered Textbook Job

Miss Florence Reid, sixth grade teacher in Eastern's training school, has been offered the position of curriculum editor of the new textbook, "Let's Read about Africa" by W. D. Allen.

During the weekend activities, alumnus Bobo Pacatte, accompanied by Sofia Kourgeoures, led the group in singing, in the absence of choral director John Williamson.

Students Must Note Change of Address

Incorrect recording of local addresses is a problem this year as it has been in past years. The registrar's office has found students who have failed to give their correct local address and telephone number. This is a must and registration is not complete without it. If at any time during the school year the student should change residence or telephone number, he should inform the registrar's office and either the dean of men or the dean of women.

Armstrong

Dr. Frederick Armstrong, a native of Du Quoin, Ill., pauses at his desk in the social science department for 'News' photographer.

Dr. Cline Tells English Club Of Experiences in Nigeria

An address by Dr. Ruth Cline of the English department was heard by the English club recently at its monthly meeting in the library lounge. Her topic was "Nigeria, the New Frontier."

Dr. Cline collected her impressions from her travels and teaching experiences during her year of sabbatical leave. According to Dr. Cline, Nigerian students study such works and authors of English literature as Lorna Doone, Shakespeare, and Chaucer. When American students are put into the British form system and study under the same conditions, they don't do so well. At the American Baptist compound 24 students failed to pass.

Because of this indoctrination into Western culture, Nigeria is a land of contrasts. It is not uncommon to see native women walking down the street carrying their personal belongings on their heads. Nigerian women are noted for their muscular necks. The natives are acquiring such western refinements in their houses as screen wire for their windows, while the British are not, according to Dr. Cline.

Among the American habits being questioned is our way of family life. In Nigeria the men who can afford it are polygamous. If the head of the household dies, the eldest wife, having seniority, takes charge. She approves all matters such as those private disputes between wives concerning the motherhood of a son. She decides which son shall go to the U.S. or Britain for further study. They regard our family life as being quite loose because of the greater freedom of the individual members.

In addition to teaching in Nigeria, Dr. Cline visited other parts of Africa and toured extensively through France, Germany, Sweden, England, and Italy.

Amstrong Comes To Eastern After Three Years at Ada, Oklahoma

by Fred Cutlip

Dr. Frederick Armstrong, a native of Du Quoin, Ill., is beginning his first year with Eastern as an associate professor in social science department. A graduate of the Du Quoin school system, he spent three years as an accountant in the service, where he "won the war in the accounting corps".

After earning his B. A. at Southern Illinois university in 1931, Dr. Armstrong did graduate work at Michigan State. He received his M. A. in '48, and stayed on at Michigan for two years as an instructor.

Illinois college in Jacksonville was the scene of Dr. Armstrong's next staff position, this time as an assistant professor.

Returning once more to the books, he completed his studies at the University of Illinois and received his Ph. D. in '53.

Since that time, and prior to joining the Eastern faculty, Dr. Armstrong has been an associate professor at East Central State college in Oklahoma.

When asked how he happened to choose a teaching career, Dr. Armstrong replied that he "sort of drifted into it. When I got out of college, there was a tremendous demand for economics instructors."

He also affirmed that he likes his work, and has been known an economist who did not like his work.

Unable to find a house in Oklahoma, Dr. Armstrong is living with his family in Kansas, Illinois, about 12 miles from Eastern. Armstrong's have four children: Martha, 6, twins, Joyce and Chris, 4, and a baby boy, Chris, 2 months old.
